

when we think

The Thinking Partnership Course

The most valuable gift we can offer each other is the framework within which to think for ourselves.

Nancy Kline

This is the introductory course to one-to-one work in a Thinking Environment. It offers the opportunity to learn and experience the Thinking Partnership Session, a uniquely powerful process for liberating the human mind.

Our ability to think is surely the greatest expression of being human. We were born able to think for ourselves, instinctively knowing how. But more often than not, we were interrupted as we grew. Interrupted by others, our desire to fit in, be accepted, or get promoted, interrupted by technology.

When we are with others, how can we stop ourselves from interrupting them? Stop assuming that their pause is an invitation for our input or opinion? How can we learn to assume that what they are about to think or say is of more value than what we could add in that moment?

Interruptions to our independent thinking are everywhere. The Thinking Environment provides a great antidote.

What to expect

- A one-to-one experience of a Thinking Partnership Session
- To discover and explore the Ten Components of a Thinking Environment®
- To learn, understand and practice how to be with people in a way that makes them feel safe, and enables them to think fully, for themselves
- You will experience for yourself the time and space to think for yourself, on topics of your choice, supported by a great thinking partner
- You will also learn the breakthrough questions that help people move beyond barriers and towards liberation in their thinking
- To meet others to think with, who may well become long-term thinking partners

Is it for me?

Do you want to generate fresh, relevant, courageous thinking in yourself and others? Are you looking for profound personal development and space to think? If so, this course is for you.

You will find particular professional benefit if you are a Leader, Coach, Financial Planner, Teacher, or in fact, you work one to one in any capacity.

The practicalities

- Completion of this course is a prerequisite to The Thinking Environment Coaching Course

What others say - words from previous attendees of this course

Becca provided a great balance of background theory and practical application. The course was well structured and there was plenty of time to ask questions and explore the Thinking Environment. Becca created a safe learning environment with her calm, gentle approach and made the whole course an absolute pleasure.

To someone considering taking this course, I would say "Definitely do it!" It's a great experience and the skills you learn are beautifully simple yet powerful.

Amanda Mayes - Operations Director, Magus Wealth

I've not only really enjoyed Becca's Thinking Partnership workshops but have also really benefited and learned from them with new won knowledge that I now apply in my own coaching practice. I find it is an exceptionally powerful method for gaining clarity about complex issues. Highly recommendable!

Angela Scott - Leadership and Team Coach

Through this course, I had the realisation that maintaining a listening presence is in itself the greatest intervention we can make. I've been a 'listener' for many years, but this approach has breathed new life into my work.

Alan Hodgetts, Enneagram Teacher and Coach
